A Devilish Decade

Class Of 1989

Chelsea High School

Boston

Our Days Were Numbered . . .

School's over now; we're sad nothing will ever be the same,
and in our hearts we feel the pain.
Friends and teachers we're going to miss;
Mr. Mauro, Moran, and Schwartz we add to the list.
To those who've been with us in all kinds of weather
to shape us up and make us better, we thank you all for what you've meant,
especially for the good times that we all spent.
We'll always remember lectures,

homework and our final test;
Homecoming, Thanksgiving Game, and our Prom,
that was the Best!
The Spirit of Chelsea, they'll never take away;
The memories are deep;
they surely will stay.
We shared such joy the past four years;
Now we turn to our future without any fears.
As we walk out the door, our good feelings show.
Thanks Mr. O'Donnell and Ms. Raimo.

At the end of our Junior Year we were filled with excitement, anticipating our senior year. In addition to anticipation we also encountered disappointment as Mr. Mauro informed us of his new position as headmaster of Winthrop High School.

Mr. Mauro's departure from C.H.S. was the end of a special, long-term relationship with the Chelsea School System. Mr. Mauro, a graduate of the class of '65, came back to the Chelsea School System ten years later, first as the occupational education department head, then as sub-master of the Williams Junior High School, and finally back to C.H.S. as the headmaster. We have all learned a great deal from Mr. Mauro; he left us the Chelsea Pride that we know will always be in his heart as well as the many hearts that he touched.

The end of Mr. Mauro's C.H.S. career, however, is the beginning of a new and exciting relationship between the students and Ms. Raimo, our new headmaster.

Always visible and easily accessible to students, faculty, and parents alike, Ms. Raimo, our first female headmaster, is well received in her new position. Ms. Raimo, a Chelsea resident, began her teaching career in this city in 1965 at the Shurtleff School, where she taught English and geography. From there she went to Williams Junior High School where she was the Special Education guidance counselor. After, Ms. Raimo came to the Chelsea High School as the Work Study Coordinator, then as sub-headmaster.

Ms. Raimo's friendliness and dedication to the students of C.H.S. can never be denied.

The members of the Class of '89 wish both Mr. Mauro and Ms. Raimo the best of luck in their new beginnings. Thank you, both, for your thoughtfulness and dedication to the students of Chelsea High School.

CHELSEA ENDINGS

Chelsea is a city steeped in history. During the Revolutionary War the Battle of Chelsea Creek was fought here. In addition, there are many historical buildings of interest such as the Cary House, in which George Washington slept.

Chelsea, throughout its history, has had to overcome major problems. Two major fires destroyed large portions of the city in 1908 and in 1973. Chelsea also had to deal with the problem of a huge bridge that virtually split the city in two.

Despite its various problems, the city and the people in it have always been able to pick themselves up and go forward.

AND BEGINNINGS

Chelsea now has much to brag about. Despite its problems, there are industrial parks, modern office buildings, the Mystic Mall and the scenic Admiral's Hill.

The Class of 1989 is similar to Chelsea in many ways. We, as students, have had problems just as Chelsea has. Our backgrounds are alike because whatever Chelsea went through, we, the students living in this city, have had to go through also. In the future, the city of Chelsea will surely change. Just as the city has weathered many changes, yet continues to improve, so too, will we, the Class of '89, continue to change and improve, due in great part to the years we spent at Chelsea High School.

Hangouts

Here are the places we all used to gather,
After school or at lunchtime for some chitter & chatter.
Never a dull moment is there ever to spare,
Gossip and laughter is always heard there.
Of course, then it's time for all to return,
Until 2:15, to the place we all learn.
To all these places so good and so fine,
So remembered by the Class of 89!

Seniors: On The Job

Here are some of the seniors working hard to pay for their school dues and to earn money to save for college. Their ending at C.H.S. marks a new beginning for their future.

Devilish Candida

In the great tradition of Chelsea High School, C.H.S. students have always been a bit "Devilish"

End of the Eighties

As we conclude our high school experience and look forward to our future experiences, we can look back at many fond memories. Among those memories are the many teachers who helped make our high school years so successful and who helped prepare us for our futures. Chelsea High is fortunate to have a faculty that cares so much about its students. For their time, effort, and patience, the Class of 1989 would like to offer a sincere thank you.

We would like to offer a special note of thanks to our class advisor, Ms. Harriet Johnson. For her efforts in making our class a success and our senior year so memorable, we offer our heartfelt gratitude. Thank You.

Message From The Master

1989 has been a year of beginnings. As the first female headmaster at Chelsea High school I began my administration the year of your class's graduation. 1989 begins what I anticipate to be a fruitful association with Boston University. The beginning of the journey to excellence begins this year for the Chelsea School System, the Chelsea Community, and first and foremost, the Chelsea students. I see no endings-only wonderful beginnings-as I wish each and every member of the class of 89 success in your chosen careers.

Communicating

End of the Eighties

The class of '89 has had a devilish time during their years at Chelsea High. Clubs and activities range from old Science Club to the new Anchor News-giving Day Rally to the new talent Show.

Many new fun activities have arisen from some of our creative classes. Annual events include a trip to Riverside Park, a ski trip, and, the newest event, a hayride!

New and old clubs and activities are moving into the new decade with a growing spirit!

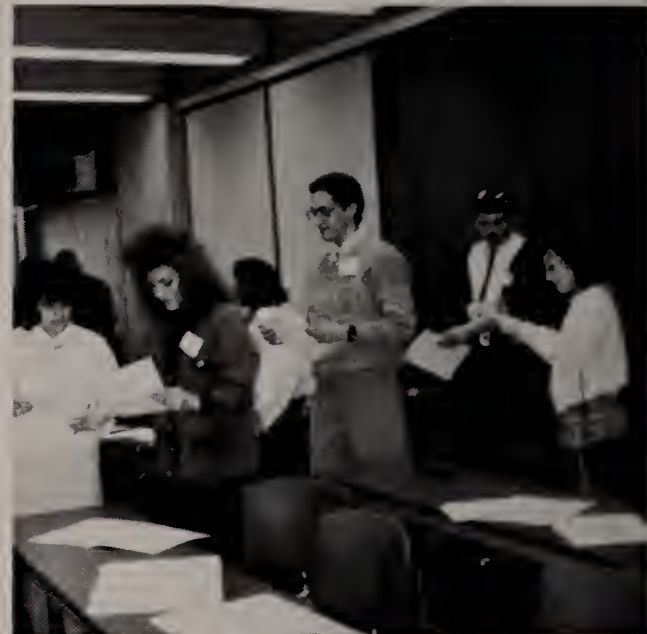

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

WHISTLE WHILE YOU WORK

Jobs For Bay State Graduates is a career exploration and job placement program designed especially for seniors in an effort to expose them to a wide range of career opportunities after high school. Activities include guest speakers, field trips, civic development and a series of skill classes covering interviewing techniques, telephone techniques, resume and application preparation and leadership development.

On Dec. 14, 1988, the members of the 1988-89 chapter of the program were initiated at a Ceremony in the boys' cafeteria at 7:00 p.m..

Devils Delivery

"Good morning! This is Suzette and Maria with this morning's Devil's Delivery." This is how Maria Carreno, senior class president, and Suzette Colitz, senior class treasurer, begin announcements every day. These girls keep the students and teachers up to date on activities, field trips and other important school information. They can be found sitting at the microphone in the little cubby hole next to the main office during homeroom time, and again just before dismissal. We will never forget the spooky noises we were blasted with around Halloween and the eerie background music that accompanied the announcements. We never know what to expect from these two devils! We wouldn't be surprised to see them announcing the news on a major television network in the future!

A Meeting Of The Minds . . .

French Club

The French Club meets once a week in room 221 with Ms. McCarthy as the advisor. This is a new and fun club. They speak French in class, visit French Restaurants and learn about French lifestyles. They have brought in different kinds of French food and listen to and sing French songs. All in all, the members of the club become French for as long as the club meets.

Science Club

This year's Science Club enrolled a few "party animals" along with the usual science "brains". They added zest to our Christmas party and "Goodbye to the Seniors" party. More than just a good time, the Science Club offered the opportunity to participate in a number of field trips including The New England Aquarium, Museum of Science and Whale Watch. The club held meetings in room 318. Advised by Mr. Joseph Slater, the membership included Carolyn Agostini, President; Edna Gonzalez, vice-president; Bruce Imbucuan, treasurer; Chan Chao, secretary; Marilyn Hogan, Evelyn Garcia, Jorge Pazos, Steven Kwong, Richard Pilcher, Serievath Ang, Elizabeth Lewandowska, Nguyen Thuong Hoai, Dinh Lea, Andrea Campagnone.

Chess Club

Chess Club meets each Tuesday afternoon in room 101 at the high school. Students learn the strategies behind the game of chess. Instruction and development of these strategies should increase students' personal abilities of foresight and balance in structural thinking. Students attend open area chess tournaments with other competitors such as Medford. Trophies are awarded for our end-of-year in-house tournament.

Students Against Drunk Driving

are all "contracted" with a home person in a signed agreement promising that neither will drive drunk or ever be a passenger in a car where the driver is drunk. Chelsea's nationally recognized chapter of SADD teamed up with MADD (MOTHERS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING) for the "TIE ONE ON" - RED RIBBON CAMPAIGN, posting a smashed car with fond wishes for "A HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON" at the Thanksgiving football game as a reminder to all not to drink and drive. Other activities include a prom time raffle with LIMOSINE SERVICE to the prom as the grand prize and a "B.Y.O.B." (BRING your own BANANA, BALLOON, bandana - - any "B" except booze) Dance.

The need for teenagers to talk and relate was met. A formal program called Peer Leading is run by Denise Hurley. Sympathetic listeners are teenagers themselves. Chelsea High School Peer Leaders receive 20-25 hours of training to be good role models, have good school attendance, and, of course, be drug free. Peer leaders attend conferences, work on substance abuse curriculum and most importantly teach in classrooms. Our peer leaders have taught in grades K-9. The younger students love having older "Peers" to talk with. The teachers appreciate the help with curriculum, and the Peers get to do a great service. This year's Peer Program included AIDS education. There was a 10 hour training session for those already trained in Peer Leading. With a large turnout of eager kids willing to become Peer Leaders, Ms. Denise Hurley as well as many kids in the program see a bright future for Peer Leaders as being an influential force for many kids in the community.

The Y.E.S. Club consists of students who are eager to serve their community. They spend time working with elderly and on other projects that help the community. Some of their activities are: cleaning the Cary House, cleaning the Williams School, visiting and writing to the residents at the Cottage Manor, helping the senior citizens with Arts & Crafts, and running a food drive to help the Salvation Army feed the hungry. A raffle was held to benefit the senior citizens. Y.E.S. Club members are students who care enough to help whenever and wherever they are needed.

As part of the continual thrust to heighten awareness of drug & alcohol abuse, Chelsea High School in conjunction with IMPACT, an improvisational musical performance company, presented a play entitled EDDIE. The play is based on the life and untimely death of Edward J. LaRiviere, A Rhode Island teenager.

Kevin LaRiviere, Eddie's older brother remembers back to a cold day in November 1977 when he and his sister were driving through Narragansett, Rhode Island and saw their younger brother, Eddie, staggering on the sidewalk. They knew he was high on drugs again. Stopping the car seemed useless. Years of counseling, stints at drug centers, court appearances, family battles, brief successes and countless disappointments always ended with Eddie succumbing again to his addictions.

On Thanksgiving night one week later Eddie was at a house party. The entertainment was drugs and alcohol. At the end of the evening Eddie's friends left him to sleep off a high in the back seat of a car. He died there alone, face down, asphyxiated by his own vomit. Eddie LaRiviere was 16 years old.

After Eddie was buried, Kevin LaRiviere recalls: "I was angry at God, angry at the world, bitter about not knowing where to have gotten help. I wanted families to know that there is help out there. In 1981 Eddie's family established the Edward J. LaRiviere Memorial Foundation to work towards prevention and treatment of teenage substance abuse. Kevin began honoring requests from groups to talk about Eddie's death and the idea for the play soon evolved. "I knew that people were listening to me," says Kevin, "but I wanted them to know me, to know Eddie, to see our family in destruction — a good family being torn apart. I wanted them to know that it could happen to any family."

Eddie Was Here was an immediate success as a stunning portrayal of the teenage substance abuse tragedy. By June, 1987, it had been seen by over 300,000 students, parents and teachers throughout New England. In the summer of 1987 the scenario was updated and revised with the input of a team of substance abuse professionals, students, and educators; and was renamed, simply, EDDIE. 1987-1988 also saw IMPACT performing as far south as Georgia and west into Michigan as part of the group's plan to broaden its geographic reach.

Ms. Hurley, coordinator of the C.H.S. performance of the play, when asked how she felt about the play and it's effectiveness, said, "It hits the point, and I'm glad we had the chance to present it." Many of the C.H.S. students who attended the play also expressed an incredible affinity for the play. As John Zucco said, "It's something I can relate to because it's put in such a way that I realized anybody can be like Eddie."

Chelsea High School has so much talent! 15 students from C.H.S. participated in the play "EDDIE" which got great reviews from students and teachers.

Anchor News Team gathers to put out 4 four-page newsy issues. The purpose of Anchor is to present students' writings and illustrations that boast student self-esteem, motivate teachers and students in the classroom, and share information on life skills, cultural events, or opportunities. An average of 40 students per issue work on the Anchor with a solid 6 student core staff to work from writing, illustration, layout and printing to produce this paper. The core staff consists of: Reia Briggs, Andrea Ruiz, Michael Yee, Rafael Valez, Larry Jeffrey and Editor Tricia Maronski. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Manning advise the club.

A note to all grammarians is also in order here. Please know that we (editing staff) are aware of the technical errors (ain't, broke, etc.) but as dedicated writers trying to correct version-to-version must judge just as they came to corrected, they seem "to lose it" sometimes. We hope you will think of these errors as (Merchants often describe expensive linen clothing) "having irregularities which only enhance the beauty of the item." ENJOY!
... and thank you; thank you to all our authors.

THE YEARBOOK

The Yearbook Staff began working on the '89 Beacon last spring when a record number of students attended the first staff meeting. Since that time, unlike many staffs whose enrollments drop after pictures are taken, our staff has grown to about 30 active members. To prepare us to tackle what we hoped would be CHS's best yearbook, some of the staff attended a spring '88 workshop at Bentley College sponsored by our publishing company, Jostens. In July a few students joined in a three day yearbook workshop held at Bryant College in Rhode Island where they had a chance to meet with Tom Keeley, our Jostens representative, and to exchange ideas with other yearbook staffers from all over Southern New England.

In the fall, a very enthusiastic ad staff continued the fundraising campaign they had launched the previous spring in hopes of raising money to put more color pages into the book than ever printed in previous years. They reached their special goal to print the senior portraits in color! Led by Suzette Colitz, the ad staff (including Nick Carvil, Rick Benitez, Vivian Luke, John Zucco, Lisa DaRosa, Annie Powers among others) raised more money than any other CHS yearbook staff.

With Mrs. Carol Blotner, the advisor, and Mr. Daniel Allen, assistant advisor, students have met regularly on Wednesday mornings. The 7:30 a.m. "muffin meetings" have become legendary due to Mrs. Blotner's home baked muffins dished out along with her and Mr. Allen's advice.

Although meeting deadlines plagued our staff, as it commonly plagues yearbook staffs everywhere, we managed to share creative ideas, enthusiasm and hard work to produce what we hope everyone will appreciate as a special edition of the Chelsea High School Beacon.

Marlene Cassell coordinated all photography efforts both with Cambridge Studios and with fellow student photographers. She tackled this extraordinary large job with charm and professionalism. Edna Gonzales and Kelli Laffey kept the office running smoothly and the typewriters clicking endlessly. Carolyn Agostini ran errands, made necessary phone calls and was a regular "Gal Friday." During study periods we could always count on a host of indispensable helpers such as Stacey McDonald, Marilyn Hogan, Eddie Torres, John Montes, Heather Laliberte, Blanca Carreno, Marla Vargus, Maribel Rodriguez, Evelyn Garcia and Liz Viola to help us meet those deadlines. Sereivath Ang and Lynda DiVasta worked to keep the photographs indexed and organized. Angel Chiclana ran paths from the room 207 Journalism class to the Yearbook office. What a "gopher"! Richard Pilcher is in charge of desk top publishing on our new Mac computer.

Some of our best ideas came from Elizabeth Lewandowska; Jorge Pazos and Vilmaries Rodriguez developed a likewise reputation for writing outstanding copy. Layout designs seem to flow naturally from the pencils of Joanna Neris and Miguel Sanabria, and being around Evil Ramirez was always pleasant. The senior yearbook staff, of course, depended on the support and many talents of our underclass staffers. Andrea Campagnone, Sharon Gross and Ralph Cunningham will have no trouble filling the shoes (big as they are) of the class of '89 when the presses start to roll on the 1st CHS yearbook of the new decade!

JOURNALISM

STAFF

CREATIVE WRITING

Creative Writing Club

The Creative Writing Club was a new club at Chelsea High School. Advising this club is Ms. DeAndrade. The club consisted of students who like to write stories and poems. This creative group of students met on Tuesday after school in room 104. Language differences were not a problem with these students, some wrote in Spanish. The club put together a fine literary journal in the spring.

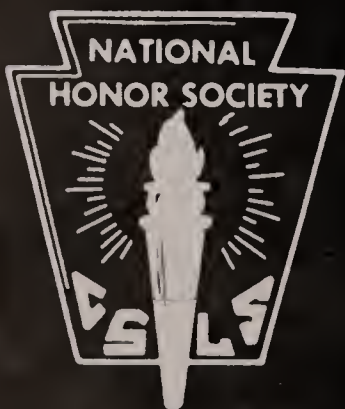

Challenge Cup

The Challenge Cup Team is a competitive activity involving students from our school and surrounding high schools. Games are played involving five member teams, with the high scoring team the victor at the end of each competition. These contests can be as nerve-racking as an athletic competition, with some games decided in the last minute or two. The schools Chelsea High competes against include: Everett, Malden, Revere, Winthrop. Some of the participants from C.H.S. include: Amy Sandelin, Darlene Santiago, Steven Kwong, Denise Sandelin, Chris Cardarelli, Richard Pilcher, Corey Messer, Eddie Lau, Sharon Gross.

National Honor Society

University Of Massachusetts Challenge Program

The Challenge Program began in 1985 by Mr. Mauro, Mr. Steriti, and U/Mass Amherst. Students with a grade of C or better were encouraged to apply. Students who would not normally go to college became involved with this incentive program. Incentives offered by U/Mass allow students to complete 4 years of college at the University of Massachusetts under the condition that they attend workshops at Chelsea High School as well as on the U/MASS campus. Students, introduced to college life, are trained to have good habits and are given courses in college preparation. They work on problem solving and study for Scholastic Aptitude Tests. The standards for getting accepted by the University of Massachusetts are the same for Challenge Program students as for any other student applying to the school. In the past a full four year scholarship has been awarded to the Chelsea High School student with the highest grade equivalency. Barring any state budget cuts, this year's participants hoped to be eligible for a full four year tuition scholarship.

We are proud of the class of '89 for being the first class to complete the requirements of the Challenge Program.

CLOSE UP is a week-long government studies program for high school students. The entire program takes place in Washington, D.C. It reflects the belief that a "close up" look at our government encourages students to grow in their understanding of the democratic process.

This was Chelsea High School's fourteenth year of student participation in the program. The group from our area attended this year's program February 26th through March 4th.

Student Council has been more active this year than ever before. The year started out with a bang as the Student Council presented the first dance of the year welcoming back the class of 88. The Turkey Day Rally, Adopt-A-Family for Christmas, and the Christmas Rally are all Student Council sponsored activities. The Student Council Talent Show is another activity that students enjoy. New this year, a day trip to New York may be the beginning of an annual Student Council tradition. Although Ms. Zullo, our advisor, was transferred to the Williams School early in the year, fortunately, she has been retained as our advisor. Because she is responsible for the increased enthusiasm and a variety of new activities, we are all grateful to her and her continued commitment to improve Student Council.

Public Relations

Beginning this year, a quarterly newsletter is being organized by students of Chelsea High School about Chelsea High School. Reporters scoop the latest news from clubs and classes around the high school that want their activities and events publicized in the local newspapers. The roving reporters of the Chelsea High Express are: Sharon Gross, Juan Claudio, Wanda Ramos, Desiree O'Brien, Carolyn Agostini, and Edna Gonzalez. This public relations oriented club is advised by Mrs. Phyllis Nazarro. Success in this new venture is well deserved.

The Chelsea High Varsity Cheerleaders kept their spirit throughout the football season, despite the foul weather conditions; even the loss of a game couldn't dampen their "devilish" enthusiasm. Without the support of these girls, the football team wouldn't have been as successful winning three games this past season. Their spirit and enthusiasm continued throughout the basketball season, and the cheerleaders developed a mutual admiration with both teams, which was exhibited during rallies and other similar school activities. The squad has represented not only their teams, but also Chelsea High School and the city of Chelsea in a respectable manner and will continue to do so. Congratulations!

Decade!*

A night to remember . . . That's the best way to sum up Homecoming '88. The dance was well attended by members of the class '88 and the CHS student body. The Student Council surely outdid themselves with glitter and sparkle decorating the hall. Max Martell and Ahn Ngyuen (shown above) were crowned Homecoming King and Queen that evening.

National Education Week

On Friday, November the 18, the Bilingual and Athletic Departments of Chelsea High School held a "Presentation of Cultures" assembly in celebration of National Education Week for the student body and faculty.

Marlene Goodman, bilingual coordinator, introduced the first group of dancers as Chelsea High School's square dance troupe. It was made up of the following students: Carolyn Agostini, Jodi Baker, Reia Briggs, Andrea Campagnone, Maria Carreno, Marilyn Hogan, Jennifer Halas, Stacey MacDonald, Annie Powers, Elizabeth Viola, Heather Laliberte, Nick Carvil, Sam Crespo, Ray Cross, Jose Martell, Miguel Medina, Steve Nowlan, Jorge Pazos, Evil Ramirez, Eddie Torres, John Zucco and John Montes. The dancers performed two numbers choreographed by Mr. Garnick, Mr. Goodman and Ms. Corwin.

The second act was a group of Vietnamese dancers under the direction of Mr. Nguyen. Le Tran, Thu Thi, Phan Pai Hong Thi, Duong Diau Ngoc Thi, Diap Danh Doanh, Nguyen Nan Anh Thuan and Tran Kim Ngan Thi performed a dance for peace wearing conical hats as a symbol of the farmers of Vietnam.

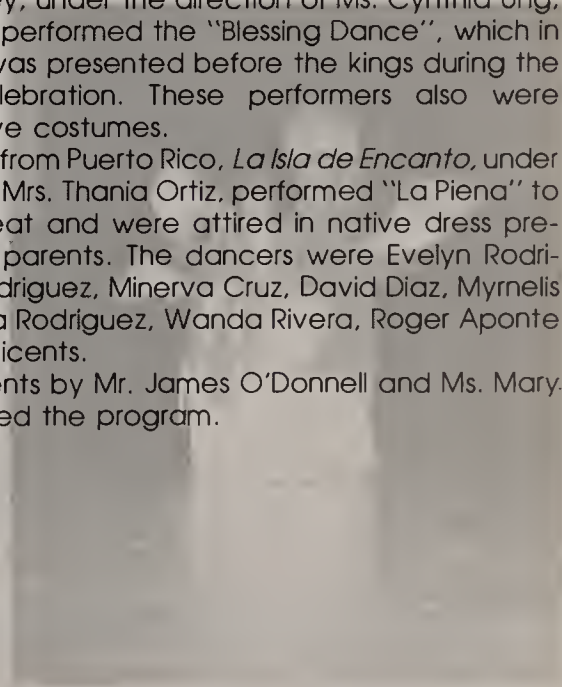

Ms. Adriana Cabarcas, representing her native Colombia, sang Fonseca, a song of lost love.

The next group of performers, consisting of Lourdes Chavez, Miriam Garcia, Ivonne Mejia, Leslye Garcia, Sonia Bueso and Maria Medina, danced "El Cicque", a dance from their native Honduras. The young ladies wore native dresses which were designed and sewn by their mothers.

A trio of Cambodian dancers, Orng Lap, Yim Peck, and Soeur Sokthavey, under the direction of Ms. Cynthia Ung, very gracefully performed the "Blessing Dance", which in ancient times was presented before the kings during the New Year celebration. These performers also were dressed in native costumes.

Last, a group from Puerto Rico, La Isla de Encanto, under the direction of Mrs. Thania Ortiz, performed "La Piena" to a Caribbean beat and were attired in native dress prepared by their parents. The dancers were Evelyn Rodriguez, Edwin Rodriguez, Minerva Cruz, David Diaz, Myrnelis Sanchez, Mayra Rodriguez, Wanda Rivera, Roger Aponte and Gerardo Vicents.

Announcements by Mr. James O'Donnell and Ms. Mary Raimo concluded the program.

BUDDING TALENTS

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

A time to be jolly . . .

The 1988 Christmas Assembly was a huge success thanks to the dedication of the students and faculty.

Everyone was in the Christmas spirit, and somehow or someway everyone was included. Thanks to the hard work of Mr. Cheffi and his students we were able to present a growing Christmas tree made out of everybody's hands. The performance of the toy soldiers reminded us of the NutCracker Suite.

The scenery sparkled due to the help of Mrs. Johnson and her art students. Some CHS students who immigrated to the U.S.A. from all over the world described to us their Christmas cultures, and also entertained us with festive dances. The foreign language classes all sang Christmas carols in French, Spanish and Italian.

The highlight of the show was the outstanding performance of our own new subheadmaster, Mr. Toleos, who sang Bruce Springsteen's version of Santa Claus is Coming to Town. This spectacular performance brought the students to their feet, screaming for more.

It was one of the best assemblies ever held at C.H.S. The holiday spirit was definitely in the air.

BEGIN AT CHS

IMPROV THEATER/ABUSE MURAL

Take a great idea and a group of eager and talented teenagers and what do you get? An Improv Theatre!

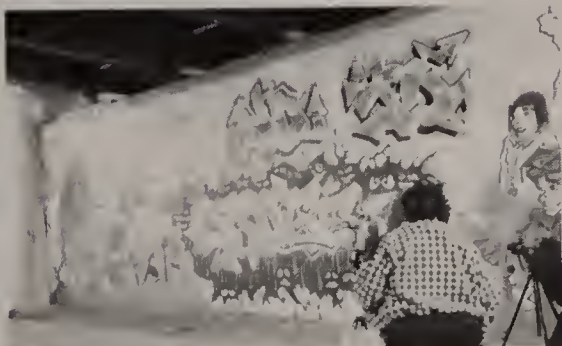

The Chelsea High School Improv Theatre, under the helmsmanship of Lorraine Ruby and Gloria Quigley, is an increasingly popular show.

The Improv Theater performs in front of a mural that depicts all types of abuse. Originally, the mural was created as an assignment for the CHS art students. Ms. Ruby, art instructor at CHS, was later approached by Ms. Quigley, drama club advisor, and asked to join the two projects, the abuse mural and Drama Club, to make an Improv theatre. The drama club students act out skits concerning social issues using the mural created by the art students as a backdrop.

When asked how she felt about the mural, Ms. Ruby responded, "it's exciting, and I'm eager to get this off the ground. I'm very proud of all the students who did a good job and worked hard." The Improv Theatre will travel to other schools and present plays to spread the news about abuse, drugs and alcohol.

R.O.C.A. MURAL

R.O.C.A.- Reaching out to Chelsea Adolescents- is an organization designed to help teenagers cope with today's ever-growing problems. As part of their anti-drug campaign, R.O.C.A. teamed up with the Massport Authority, who donated wall space under the Tobin Bridge, to sponsor an anti-drug mural project created by Chelsea High School students Jose Cintron, Antonio Nieves, and Anthony Quiles.

Chelsea Mayor John J. Brennan, Jr., Ms. Elizabeth McBride, School Committee woman and a Massport Authority representative, among others, joined in a dedication ceremony at the site of the mural.

To defray the cost of the mural, the funds were solicited from the private sector with the help from Chelsea City Hall and Jose Cintron's mother. Jose, himself, felt, "it's a dream come true for me to do something like this."

End of the Eighties

1988-89 was the year of Chelsea's arrival into the Commonwealth Athletic Conference. Due to their large number of students, Chelsea's opposing teams tried to intimidate the smaller numbered Chelsea teams. None-the-less, every Chelsea team played hard from start to finish.

Chelsea entered the new league with high expectations and high hopes. The final results showed Chelsea dominating in most of the sports.

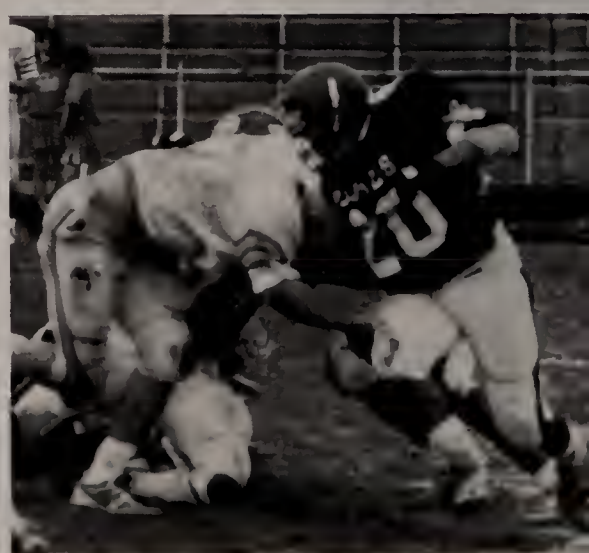

With the entering of a new league, a lot of pressure was put on Chelsea. Even with all of that pressure, CHS athletes responded by making 1988-89 a year in Chelsea Sports that will long be remembered.

SPORTS

Football

The CHS football squad, under the direction of Coach Carderelli, had high expectations as they entered the Commonwealth Athletic Conference. As first believed, the highly talented CHS group came out smoking!! The squad, led by Co-Captains Scott Conley and Angel Chiclana, finished up pre-season by going undefeated and beating their new rival, Manchester. Although the season ended in disappointment, there were some highlights. The team placed five players on the CAC All Star Team! The biggest highlight was when Chelsea, playing in their first-ever overtime game, came out the victor!! Look for the team to increase their power as this year's team graduates only 8 seniors.

Soccer

Congratulations to this year's soccer team as they set out and won the Commonwealth Conference Crown. This year's squad was led by All-American Jorge Guardado and freshman William Molina. The season was full of excitement. "Chelsea," said head coach Mahoney, "played the best game in Chelsea history in beating Lowell 2-1 for the championship." Also that was the first ever league title for Chelsea's talented team.

Cross Country

The 88 Cross Country team had a record of 2-6-0. Led by senior Captain John Triolo and Co-Captain Wolfman Mesedieu, they had a good year going into the new league with an outstanding victory over St. Joe's. The team was well coached by Abe Garnick. "This year's competition was very close, with losses of only a few seconds and points," said Mr. Garnick. Looking forward to next year, they will have all members returning except senior Captain, John Triolo.

Volleyball Champs!!

This year's Chelsea High Girls' Volleyball Team is definitely something to be proud of. Being the team's second season, the girls not only made it to the tournament, but they also walked away as Champions of the Commonwealth Athletic Conference. For the first time in the history of Chelsea High, a girls' team has won a Championship!

During the first season, the team mastered the basic skills; this season veteran members learned advanced skills while new members improved on the basics. Improvement was obvious as the team quickly advanced to second place in the conference, then first place. At the deciding game against Greater Lowell, the team played like never before and came out with a great victory. They then went on and defeated PMA and got what they had worked so hard for, The Championship.

The girls were rewarded when four of the team members, Blanca Carreno, Minerva Cruz, Myrnellis Sanchez, and Arlene Santiago, were named to the All Star Team. Also, the team had two Player's of the Week, Blanca Carreno for the week of Sept. 26 and Minerva Cruz for the week of Oct. 10. Minerva was also named the MVP of the Commonwealth Athletic Conference.

The girls closed the season with the tournament game, which was played at Chelsea High. Although the girls did not win the match, it was a great victory just making it to where they did.

None of this could have been possible if it had not been for our two great coaches, Ms. Beverly Corwin and her twin sister, Terry Corwin, both of whom dedicated themselves to teaching the team the game of volleyball.

As for next year, the team will remain the same, except for senior Myrnellis Sanches, who contributed a lot to the victory of the team. She was the second highest scorer and spiker. Myrnellis shared her words with the team, "I enjoyed playing on the team. Together we became one. Keep working hard and winning so you can get the Championship again next year!"

BOYS BASKETBALL

Having already won two CAC Championships, Chelsea High was getting ready to play its most dominating sport, basketball. Jack Niven's high spirited, talented and cocky team overpowered its competition.

Chelsea fell one game short of winning its second Christmas tournament in 3 years, but that didn't hold Chelsea back as they clinched a state tourney berth in just its thirteenth game.

With balanced scoring and team work, Chelsea was nothing less than unbeatable. Second year captains Tommy Mims and Leo Chafin were looked upon to lead this team to stardom. Senior Angel Chiclana's leadership was a motivating factor in the team's success. The pinpoint shooting of John Saunders was very instrumental in Chelsea's offensive attack. Reggie Wilkerson's ability to grab crucial rebounds was a big part of Chelsea's fast break. Every successful basketball team has got to have someone to run the offense and no one in the CAC ran it better than Andre Hassel.

With Chelsea's multitude of talent, Jack Niven's only problem was finding enough playing time for his more than capable bench, mostly made up of underclassmen such as Gilberto Castro and John Hassel.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The 1988-89 Chelsea High School girl's basketball team has improved this year tremendously. They worked together, practiced, and played as a team. Unfortunately, they did not win a lot of games this season, but for each game they tried their best and always had their hopes high for the next one. Their enthusiasm and courage to play gets better every time and that makes Chelsea High School proud.

Their hard work showed as Chelsea defeated Northeast Regional by the score of 33-32. The coach of both varsity and junior varsity, Paul Eaves, has been patient teaching the girls the fundamentals of the game. He is constantly helping to improve the team's play. With his help, the team has been tough and enthusiastic. The captain, Maria Carreño, has been a great inspiration to the other girls as she, with her efforts and leadership, leads the team.

HITTING THE

Where It Started . . .

Chelsea High School held an annual ski trip on Tuesday, January 10th at King Ridge in New London, N.H. The all day ski trip began at 6:30 a.m. and continued until 6:00 p.m. The highschoolers, who ranged from beginners to experts, spent most of the day on the slopes. Before hitting the slopes, some students received 90 minutes of instructions. Following are some quotes made by some of the students who attended the ski trip:

Wanda Rios-"Help me!"

Vivlan Luke-"When do we get lessons?"

Suzette Colitz-"I can't wait to ski!"

Annie Powers-"How do you stop?"

Tara Dichara-"I'm starving!"

John Montes-"Pictures for the yearbook."

Joyce Caggiano-"Ouch! I fell again."

Larry Jeffrey-"It's time to hit the slopes."

Steven Kwong-"I know how to ski now."

Liz Viola-"It's cool!"

Stacey MacDonald-"It's cool."

Heather Laliberte-"I need my ear-muffs."

Kevin Crocker-"It's awesome!"

Arthur Minsky-"Mad Hatter is great!"

Andrea Camagnone-"Nightmare on the slopes."

Jorge Pazos-"It's never been better."

Michelle Martorana-"It was hard getting off the lift."

This is the year for the Juniors! The Juniors are almost "Mighty" and have raised the money to be just that! With a lot of help from their devoted officers these Juniors have had tons of activities. Some of the activities include the Riverside trip, and football and basketball concession stands. They also started a new tradition, "Secret Bunnies", sold around Easter. To show all of their school spirit they sold "Chelsea sweatshirts" (with the seniors), football pennants, and C.H.S. Mugs. To show they are a caring class, they helped with "Globe Santa". This class won't have a hard time filling the Seniors shoes, they are at the top of the list!

The Sophomore class has been off to a great start! This class has had some very original and successful activities. Two are the Riverside trip, and the hayride. Besides having fun, they also raised money by selling items like book covers, pens, and pencils (sold on the first day of school), school pins, and a 50-50 raffle at the Thanksgiving Day game. If it weren't for the energy and help of their officers, nothing would have even been started. Gerardo Nunez was there with all the brilliant ideas, Julie Brown gave everyone the motivation needed to be successful. Arlene Santiago had a very hard job trying to take care of the flowing money and Darlene Santiago kept track of all the commotion at the meetings; Advising the "Wild Bunch" were Ms. Gould and Mr. Caulfield.

Chelsea is a miniature melting pot, a place where people have immigrated from all over the world. Walking through the halls at Chelsea High School a person might hear, along with the English language, languages such as Spanish, Polish, French, Italian, Vietnamese, Khmer, Russian, and Armenian, to name a few. A person might meet students who were born in such places as Bermuda, Cambodia, Hong Kong, China, Argentina, El Salvador, Puerto Rico, Colombia, Guatemala, Honduras, Poland, Haiti, Scotland, Nicaragua, Trinidad, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Cuba, Cape Verde, Ecuador, Panama, Peru and Angola. This multi-cultural school is an exciting place to be because we are given a unique opportunity to share, first hand, ideas with and learn about others' backgrounds, cultures, religions, races and ethnic origins. By living and learning together, we learn respect for each other's differences. Some of our "international" student body were interviewed about their feeling toward school in the United States versus their native countries. Sharing their thoughts were:

Chhan Hoeun from Cambodia who remembered, "When I first came here I was scared. People bothered me, and I didn't know how to speak English. Now, sometimes I feel happy when all the kids in this high school are nice to me. The schools in America are beautiful. When my country didn't have war yet, it looked like American schools in size. The walls of the schools were made of banana leaves or bamboo in Cambodia, though. Also, in Cambodia, we wore blue and white uniforms."

Kandy Goncalves from Cape Verde who shared, "In Cape Verde the food was different, the work was harder, and the desks were different. The classrooms were pretty much the same, however."

Jonathan Pan from Hong Kong who said, "The subjects in school are basically the same. The students in Hong Kong, however, are required to wear uniforms, and the school day is eight hours long."

BEGINNING THERE CHS: The School

Leo Chin from China who remembers, "Every morning students exercised before school."

Alex Arango from Colombia who felt, "The teachers in Chelsea High School are more understanding than in Colombia."

Maria Camero from Colombia who said, "Uniforms are required from students in Colombia; the students do not change their classes, but rather the teachers come into the classrooms."

Astrid Reyes from Guatemala who revealed, "School in Guatemala starts in January and ends in September. The school day starts at seven in the morning, but is over at 12:45."

Of Many Nationalities

credits in Bermuda equal 73 credits in the United States (Chelsea)."

Dinh Ly from Vietnam who reflected, "The grading system in Vietnam is different from the system here. They grade on a 1-10 basis with 10 being the highest mark."

Da Thach from Vietnam remembered, "School in Vietnam was only four hours a day long. Every day the schedule was different, and we had no homeroom period."

Elizabeth Lewandowska from Poland who shared her memories, "The school system in Poland is only slightly different from the United States. The grading system was based on numbers 2-5, 5 being very good and 2 being a failing grade. Every day the schedules changed; we were required to wear uniforms; we had no homerooms; everyone had to take Russian as a foreign language. The grammar school and junior high were one school, and, after, you could choose to go to high school, nursing school, professional school, or technical school from 3 to 5 years of additional training."

Franklin P. Rodas from Guatemala who exclaimed, "I was surprised when I came to school here because the schools were so big! I had never been in so big a school before."

Wanda Pachano from the Dominican Republic who felt, "The school I went to in the Dominican Republic was much harder than school here."

Mom Pheng from Cambodia who expressed, "I first felt that the American schools were not friendly, but now I like the schools and the teachers. They are helpful and are so nice to us. In Cambodia we all wore the same clothes, blue and white skirts for the girls and blue and white short pants for the boys."

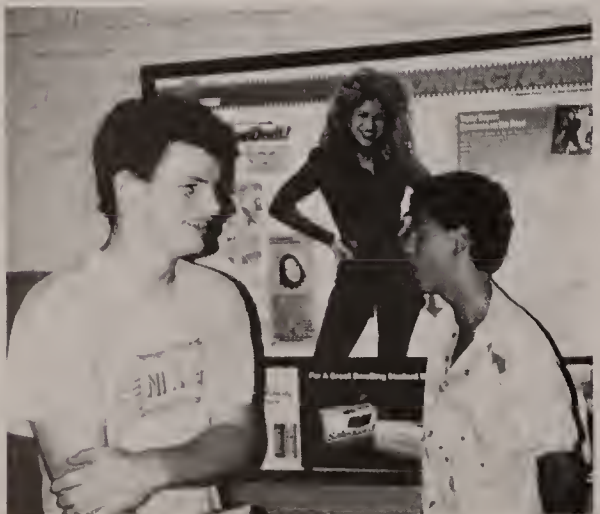

Evil Ramirez from Honduras who stated, "The school day is different in Honduras; the day starts at 7:00 am, breaks for lunch at noon, and resumes at 1:15 until dismissal at 5:00 pm! There are not as many choices of classes in Honduras as there are in American schools."

Miguel Angel Aoscate from Argentina who said, "The school starts in March in Argentina and continues until November."

Wanda Rivera from Puerto Rico who knew, "The schools in Puerto Rico do not have detention as a punishment for being late or cutting classes like we have in Chelsea. Also, the principal of the school in Puerto Rico does not call the parents when the student is absent like they do here. Puerto Rican students wore uniforms."

Quinnell Smith from Bermuda who thought, "The schools are basically the same except for the grading system and credits. For example, in Bermuda 35 credits are needed to graduate, and in Chelsea 100 credits are needed. However, 17

What Is Unique About The Class Of '89?

The Senior Class has had its ups and downs, but we always ended up shining! As freshman we started off successfully with a soap sale. As sophomores some of the things we did included running the football and basketball concession stands, holding a bottle and can drive, drenching ourselves at the car wash and beginning a major collection of class dues. As Juniors we felt like big shots, excited because only one more year of high school remained. Occasionally we teamed up with "The Mighty, Mighty Seniors" for activities like the dinner dance, the prom, and the ski trip. We also showed spirit by selling CHS buttons and pencils. Then came Sept. 9, 1988! The day we became "The Mighty Ones"! This year we were in charge of the prom. We held a jelly bean contest, and sold "Chelsea" sweatshirts. Our senior Dress-up Day and Halloween Party was a huge success. We showed our friendship and affection to each other with "Secret Boos" and "Christmas/well wishes". In the end we turned out just fine!

End of the Eighties

CHS yearbooks in the past have been very successful; however, this year, our staff has done an exceptional job in raising funds. With the help of an eager and lively business committee, this yearbook staff has raised enough money to have the senior portraits in full color, an expanded senior section, and more pages than in previous yearbooks. Our yearbook staff has worked hard, but without the help of the Chelsea business community, this yearbook could not be the success it is.

Thank you to the many patrons who were thoughtful enough and generous enough to take out an ad. We would also like to thank the many students, parents, and faculty for their support in taking out messages in the book. To all who helped make this a great book, we thank you very much.
